

As American service members continue fighting the war on terror, their family members are increasingly left to fight the war at home. Faced with multiple deployments, the spouses and children of America's troops bravely continue on despite financial hardships, emotional stress and the danger that their loved ones may be injured or killed. Now, more than ever, the American military family needs your help.

By making a contribution to the Armed Forces Foundation you help support our efforts to support military service members and their families through, among other efforts, financial assistance, injury support services and morale and recreational programs.
